

No media consolidation. We feel great anger at what is going on against our will. Be careful. The American people are not so stupid. They are waking up.